There are 50 mistakes in the following story. If a word is misspelled, cross out the wrong spelling and write the correct spelling above it. Put punctuation marks in where they belong. If a word needs a capital letter, cross it out and write the capitalized letter above it. Put paragraph marks in front any new paragraphs. Be very careful and carefully proofread your work before you turn it in.

Were off! It's Sep. and time for the stokes Stomp. Me and my freinds our going too help distribute prasadam at the dan River I no its going to be exciting, we did this last year and had so much fun.

Their are going to be more preps this year - rice, subji, poppers and pakoras. Many devotees will be helping two. I don't know who's car I'll go in but I plan to get they're real early so I can help with the cut-up because one time i herd one of the devotees say, The more you cut-up, the more you can eat " and boy, do i like to eat prasadam?

This year we will also sing bhajans on stage. I supose well be singing hare Krsna and the different devotees instruments will be available to play. I like to play the kartals more of the time, but I don't sing very good. Anyway, back to the prasadam. It seems that alot of people will become vegatarians by geting krsna's mercy. I realy think its exciting to see so many peple get prasadam. If they were to ask me, I'd say Yes, lord Krsnas devotees cook with love and devotion. You can taste the difference. I'd also invited them to are feasts.

I'll bet that this will be in the Danbury reporter the next day. They always say how were such good cooks!

Gee I wonder how many pakoras I can eat.

There are 50 mistakes in the following story. If a word is misspelled, cross out the wrong spelling and write the correct spelling above it. Put punctuation marks in where they belong. If a word needs a capital letter, cross it out and write the capitalized letter above it. Put paragraph marks in front any new paragraphs. Be very careful and carefully proofread your work before you turn it in.

Were off! It's Sep. and time for the stokes Stomp. Me and 2mistrand I are my freinds our going too help distribute prasadam at the dan River.

I no its going to be exciting we did this last year and had so much fun.

Their are going to be more preps this year - rice, subji, poppers, and pakoras. Many devotees will be helping, two. I don't know who's car I'll go in, but I plan to get they're real early so I can help with the cut-up because one time i herd one of the devotees Say, The more you cut-up, the more you can eat." and,

boy, do i like to eat prasadam?

This year we will also sing bhajans on stage. I supose well be singing hare Krsna and the different devotees instruments will be available to play. I like to play the kartals more of the time, but I don't sing very good. Anyway, back to the prasadam. It seems that alot of people will become vegatarians by geting krsna's mercy. I really think its exciting to see so many peple get prasadam. If they were to ask me, I'd say, Yes, lord Krsnas devotees cook with love and devotion. You can taste the difference. I'd also invited them to are feasts.

I'll bet that this will be in the Danbury reporter the next day. They always say how were such good cooks!

Gee I wonder how many pakoras I can eat.