

THE BLINDFOLDED MAN

INSTRUCTIVE STORIES BY SRILA PRABHUPADA

Once a man made a bet with another man that he could identify any automobile by the sound it made, even while he was blindfolded

In this way, with the blindfold, the man was made to stand on the street corner

As different vehicles would go by he would identify them by their name

That's a toyota car.

That's ambassador car.

That's fiat car.

Finally an animal walked by dragging a string of tin cans behind it.

That's a ford car.

Ha! Ha! Ha!

MORAL :

We can't even judge the most simple things with our imperfect senses, so how can we speculate about the Absolute Truth?

- Srila Prabhupada