

THE HIDDEN TREASURE OF THE FIELD

Once there was a farmer. He had four sons. All of them were very lazy

The farmer used to toil very hard in his field. He used to get good crop. Therefore he could nicely look after his family

One day the farmer was ill. There was no hope of his survival. Lying on the the bed he began to worry

All my four sons are very lazy. Who will plough the field after my death?

Who will do the cutting of the crop? There will not be any crop, then how will my family survive?

So he thought of an idea. He called all his four sons.
He made them sit near him. In a low voice he said...

In our field, i have hidden many many pots of treasure....

....after my death, all four of you dig out the field and find out these pots filled with wealth

After some days, the farmer died

There after the four sons were anxious to find out the hidden wealth. They began to dig the field with enthusiasm. All four of them dug the entire field but they could not find any pot of wealth

At last my lazy sons have been tricked to work

Even while dying, our father spoke lies. We worked so much hard but not even one pot of wealth we could find

All our efforts are in vain

No your efforts will not go in vain. Now it is the time of sowing the seeds. As it is you have ploughed the field, it will not take much time to sow the seeds

So they got convinced by their mother and four brothers were sowing the seeds

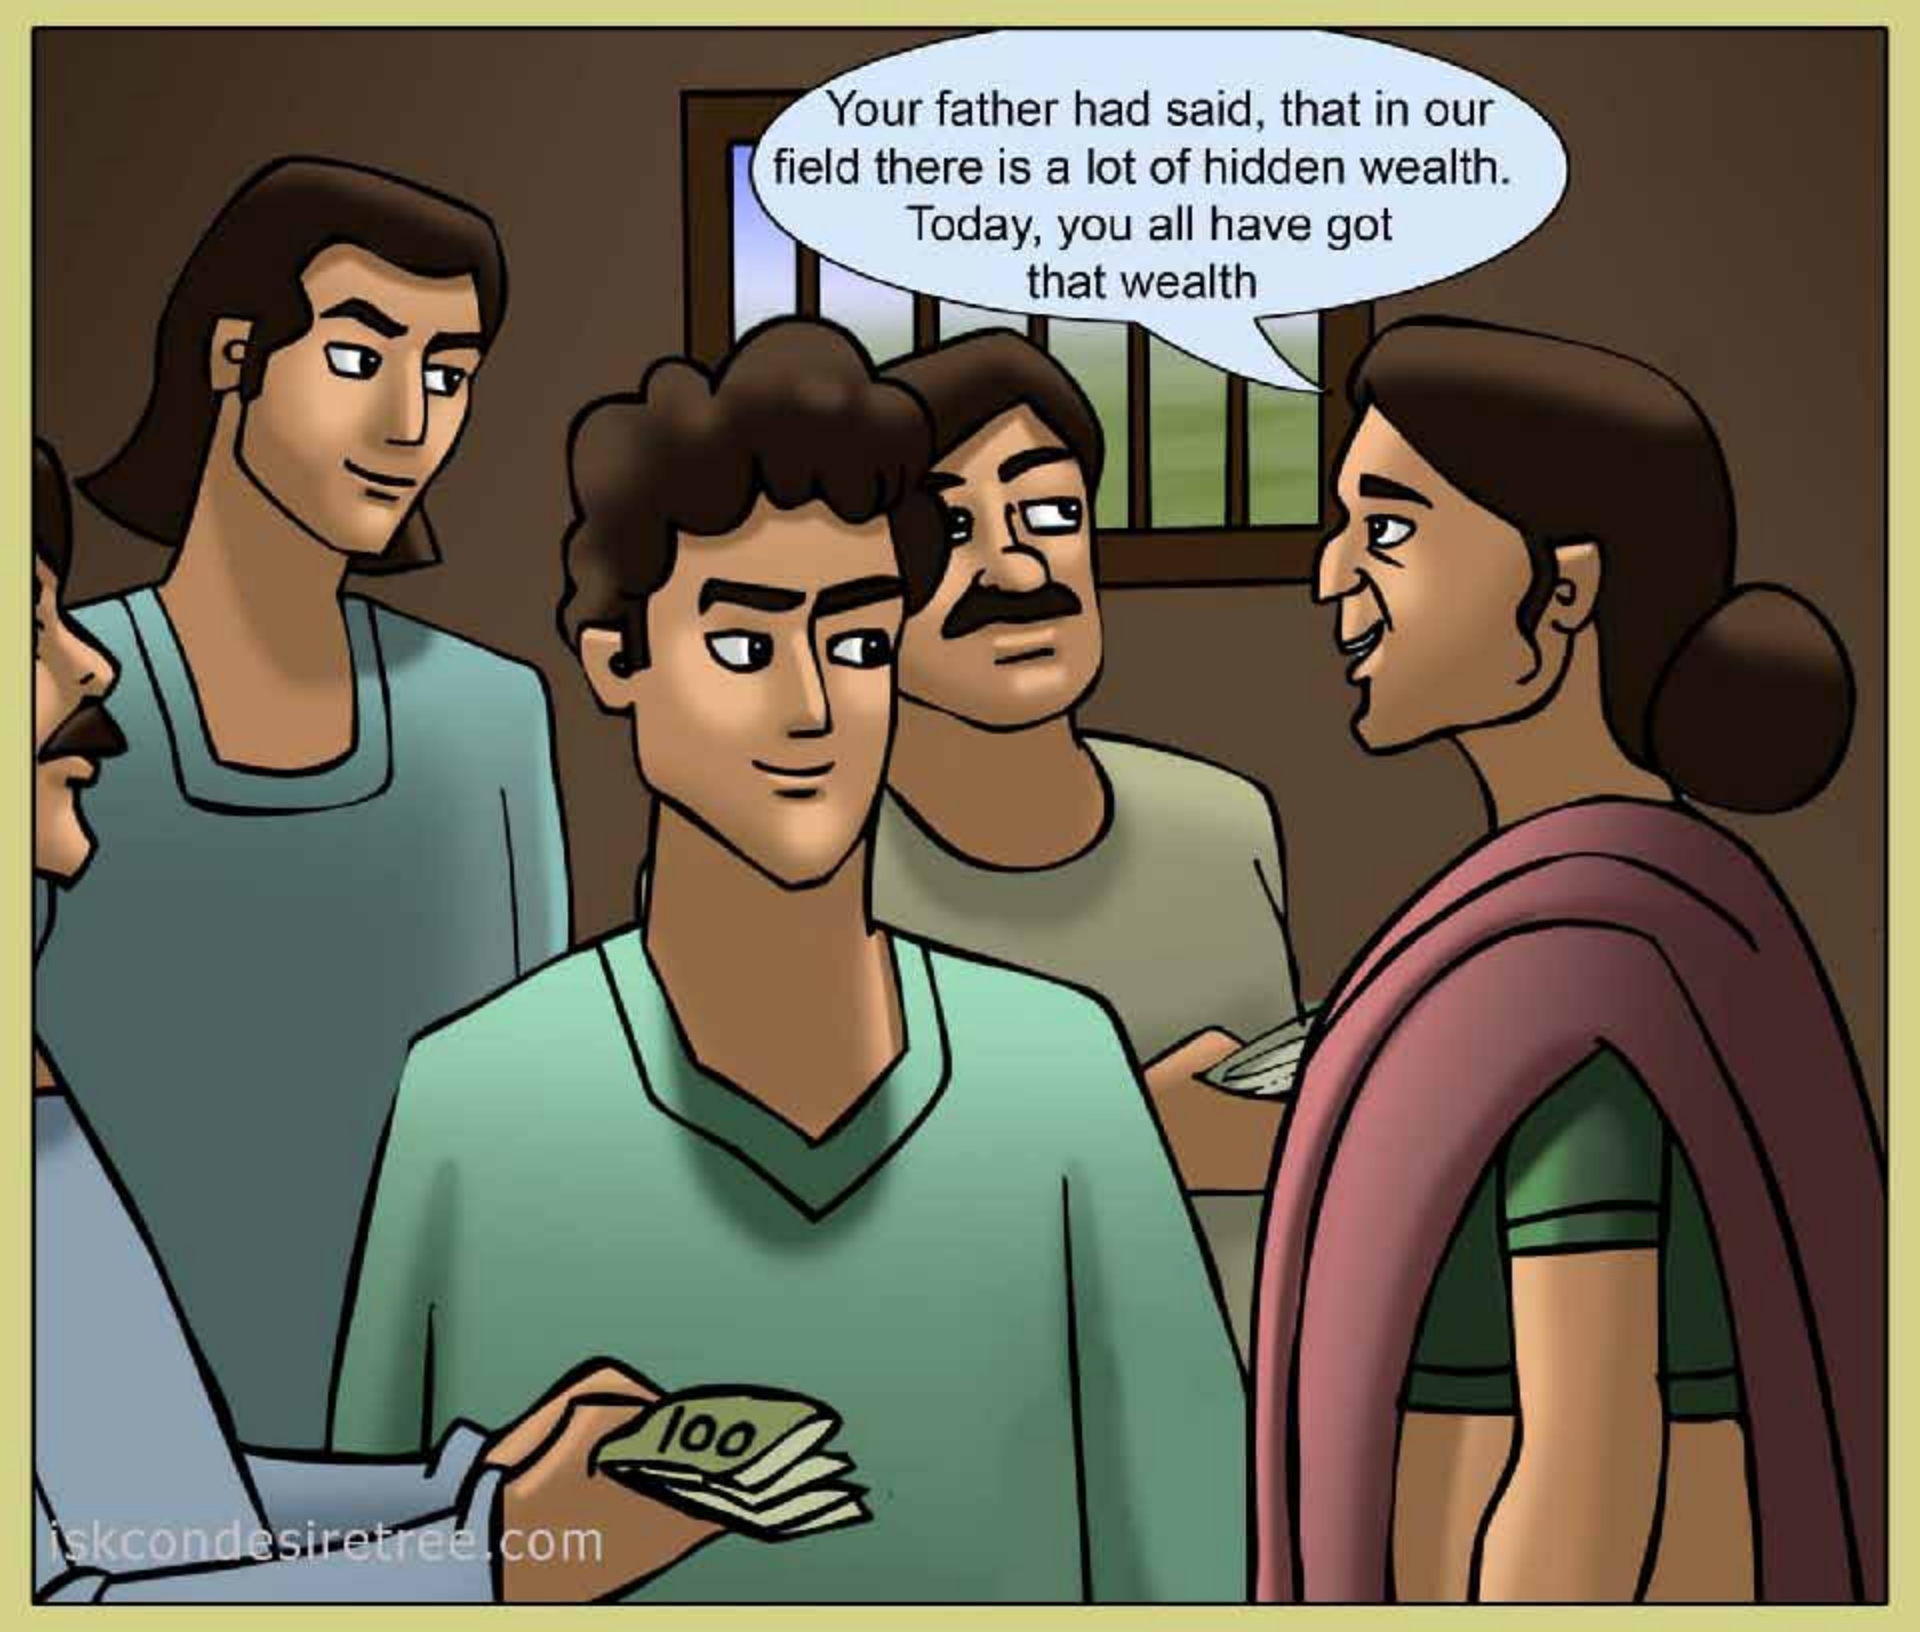

It rained nicely that year and there was abundant crop

They sold the crops and gained a lot of money. All four sons became very happy

Your father had said, that in our field there is a lot of hidden wealth. Today, you all have got that wealth

MORAL :

Laziness begets nothing but failures and lost opportunities
