

THE LAMB AND THE TIGER

A lamb was once drinking water from the side of a lake.

Across the water was a tiger.

The tiger told the lamb.....

Why are you muddying
the lake?

I am not muddying the lake

Definitely you are muddying the lake. Because of you muddying the lake I am not able to get clean water.

I am a small animal,
I am only drinking the water from top. I have not even entered the water

But the tiger quarrelled with the lamb

Oh! You are arguing too much. Let me show you who is right.

Baa! Baa! Please.....

Then killed it.

Quite delicious.

MORAL :

This story illustrates how people in animal consciousness look for faults in others and then create quarrels in order to kill. Give a dog a bad name and hang it.

- Srila Prabhupada