

THE LAZY MEN

Once there was a king who wanted to find the laziest man.

There is an announcement

The king has decide to feed all the lazy men in the charity house so all the lazy men are invited.

Hundreds of people assembled in the charity house. Each one claimed to be lazy.

Set fire at the charity house

Yes
master

Everyone became active and started running outside, except two men who were found to be still in the burning building.

My back is becoming very hot

Just turn over to the other side

These are actually lazy men. Only lazy men cannot cook. Only feed them. Rest have just come for free meals.
