VEDIC HEROES

BHISHMA

The great valiant grand sire of the Kuru dynasty, and the grand father of the famed Pandavas, who were very dear to Lord Krishna. Bhishma, although very affectionate towards Pandavas, fought against them in the great battle of Kurukshetra by the will of the providence. He laid on the bed of arrows shot by Arjuna and his army and Bhishma could leave his body whenever he desires at his own will.

VEDIC HEROES

YUDHISHTIRA

Also known as Dharmaraja, the elder brother of Pandavas who were the grand children of Bhisma and close relatives of Lord Krishna, is the most righteous and ideal king who never went back on his words, ruled the entire world with unrivalled sovereignty (with no opposing elements in his Empire)

BHIMA

The second brother of Pandavas, possesses the strength of ten thousand elephants, killed Jarasandha in a strange manner by the grace of Lord Krishna, by bifurcating his body into two parts.

VEDIC HEROES

ARJUNA

The third brother of Pandavas, the most confidential friend and cousin of Lord Krishna. He won Draupadi in a very heroic feat of shooting arrow into the eye of a fish in the reflection.

ABHIMANYU

The valiant Hero, befitting and most qualified son of Arjuna went to fight in the great battle of Kurukshetra at his very tender age along with his father and uncles but was trapped and killed in 'Padmavyuha' by Kauravas with fraudulent methods.

PARIKSHIT

The grand son of Pandavas, the most glorious personality of the entire Kuru dynasty, who renounced the whole empire, when he was cursed to die within seven days. He decided just to hear and relish the glories of Lord Sri Krishna from Srila Sukhadeva Goswami at the end of his life.
